

Headline News:

“The Great Behavior Breakdown”, written by B. Bryan Post Gets Powerful Praise!!

This book takes the foundation of attachment theory and brings it alive in the face of the most challenging behaviors that parents may face when parenting children with early attachment disruption histories. Rather than focusing on behaviors, Post goes into the very root of the cause and gives parents simple and concise guidance on how to respond in a manner that will help re-establish secure attachment where it may once have been lost.

— Sir Richard Bowlby

The Great Behavior Breakdown addresses the most difficult behaviors that parents can face. It gives parents an eye-opening and heart opening understanding of the causes of these behaviors, and a practical way to work with them that puts the focus on strengthening the relationship rather than trying to control the behavior. Like the best medicine, it addresses the root problems and not just the symptoms. We all love our children, but making that love real in the eye of the storm can be extremely challenging. This book will teach you about your own stress reactions, and how you can respond more effectively to your children from your own inner strength with compassionate understanding, rather than reacting out of your fear.

— Myla Kabat-Zinn, co-author of “Everyday Blessings: The Inner Work of Mindful Parenting”

GOT Jekyll & Hyde?

Find Hyde.... and get peace back into your home!

Introductory Classes

With Purchase of Great Behavior Breakdown book ($19.95) & Workbook ($15)

FREE

Books will be available to purchase at class. CEU's Approved

Already own it? Just bring it to Class

Great Behavior Breakdown Intro Class I:

Core concepts of the stress model, in depth look at lying and three-phase intervention

Great Behavior Breakdown Intro Class II:

In depth look at stealing, containment, defiance and feedback loops

Choose Your Dates

Class I

Saturday February 6th, 2010

Class II

Saturday February 20th, 2010

AT

St. Joseph Public Library, East Hills Branch. 502 North Woodbine, St. Joseph, MO 64468 9:30am to 12:30pm Registration begins at 9.

Class I

Wednesday February 10th, 2010

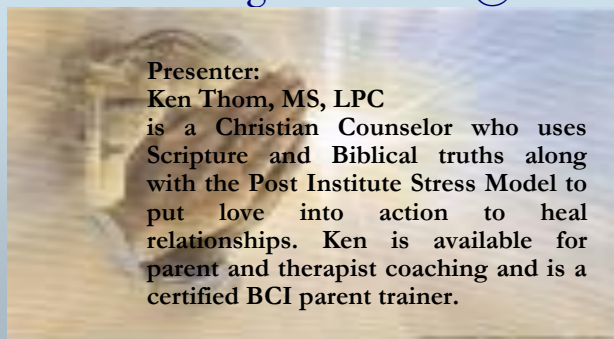

Class II

Wednesday February 24th, 2010

AT

Maryville RII School District Superintendent's Office. 1429 S. Munn, Maryville, MO – just North of High School, North basement entrance. 1pm – 4:00 Registration begins at 12:30.

Register online @ kenthomcounseling.com

Presenter:
Ken Thom, MS, LPC
is a Christian Counselor who uses Scripture and Biblical truths along with the Post Institute Stress Model to put love into action to heal relationships. Ken is available for parent and therapist coaching and is a certified BCI parent trainer.

